The Fourth Industrial Revolution

The age of disruption & transformation demands a different approach to leadership and management

There are leaders ready for the future...

...and those ready for the future...

bbc.com : Prime Minister of Canada Justin Trudeau has shown the rest of the world's leaders how to do publicity once again - by bringing his three-year-old to the office.

Our Goals today

- * To demonstrate that Leader and Manager development for the future, is urgent and important NOW
- * To support this assertion with exclusive new 2017 research from Cegos for the APAC region, highlighting the 4 key areas that require focus for leader / manager readiness
- * To show how disruptive Leaders are changing the game where more traditional organisations are often lagging
- * To use the power in this room to share, discuss and inspire positive action
