

N.E.W.S.® First Time Managers

Equipping new managers with the essential mind- set, tool- set and skill-sets to be able to manage successfully their teams and to transform into the role of management and leadership.

For first time managers in transition from being professional individual contributors to managing others.

First aid kit for first time managers!

A highly practical 5-module management development training solution to answer the real need of the current market. It establishes the foundations necessary today for a successful career as a manager-leader. It allows the new managers to grow whilst managing professionally their teams and getting their team members to grow.

- Assist your new managers in becoming effective in their new role.
- Equip them with the essentials of managing people.
- Train them to be able to empower and delegate.
- Enhance their capability for getting work done through others rather than alone.
- Improve team performance and achieving outstanding results.

“The most challenging transformation is from managing SELF to managing OTHERS.”

Ram Charan - Previous Dean
Harvard Business School

Find out more!

info@powerinu.com.sg

